

Bleach, Child Of Sod

I remember the first time that I met you.
Everything that I heard of you was true.
I was a child of mud, I was the child of sod.
Call me the son of filth, drowne me to life in your blood.

You are the only one for me.
You are the one who set me free.
And I have found the love I need.
You are the only one for me.

As an infant I find my vision clearing.
I grow closer to you, find you endearing.
You are my maker, you are my food.
And I have tasted and I find that you are good.

You are the only one for me.
You are the one who set me free.
And I have found the love I need.
You are the only one for me.

The one for me, set me free, the one for me, set me free.
