

Bledsoe, The Calm

I don't know what you know but I think you know
It's time to wash more of this away
Everytime anytime I don't know what time is
But I think to You it's all the same thing
And life is bigger than your movie screens
And my black and white dreams

Everytime I say the words that I want You to hear
Backdrop falls not coming in clear
Live and learn in a messed up world in a dressed up world
Up and down the same way
For the last time I shout for the first time I'm listening now

Over the sound and I would believe anything that You say
To me now over the crowd and I would believe anything that You say

Am I living now the world falls down the calm surrounds
Breathing now leaving now feeling now
