

Bleed The Dream, A Smile For Judas he's gone, and there's nothing you could do but i'm sure that halo keepers have a smile for you and they've got a smile for you no matter what they try to tell you preaching what you can and can't do let them go, let them save their own judas... here's a smile for you nothing they can sing about can match those things you put you through and judas, here's a smile for you i know that it reminds you every day and if he were standing next to you he'd breathe in and say you know he'd say...

no matter what they try to tell you
