

Bleed The Dream, Legends Die

there you go throwing stone
this is how you want to end it take your life
precious life your not even worth defending i know your out there laughing its time to disappear and i know your hearts are empty and the end is calling near

its just what you wanted just what you wanted
to be dead and dishonest
so just let it take you just let it take you cause its sad what its come to take it in breath it in even though your lungs cant stand it push it out breath it out you know they're waiting open handed and i could never tell you the things you want to hear what your about to go through will force you through your fear
