

Bleeding Through, Line In The Sand

The line is being drawn through my heart
And we're conceiving fires through our thoughts
You're just like me
This is everything i wanted to tell you
I'm still in love with everthing about you
And I feel the wreckage from everything you do
And I'm tired of still waiting, woah-oh-oh-oh
If i told you the truth now
Would you still leave and take my heart?
And i still feel ugly but you're ugly just like me
When I told you the truth now, would you still leave? Will you ever change?
But i still feel empty
Will i always lose this game?
This is everything i wanted to show you
I'm no longer scared of anything about you
I lived through the damage of heart you took from me
And I'm tired of still wanting