Bleeding Through, On Wings Of Lead

Nothing was supposed to hurt like this Missing you was always one more kiss Now there's nothing that I can do One more nail in the coffin, and it's all for you

Always were and always were a simple love story You were everything I ever hoped and dreamed Drown me in a pool of my blood It's getting harder just to breathe I'll suffocate you faster just so you can't see, so you can't see me sleep It's getting harder just to say the right things

I've seen the angel's face, and I've heard her sing to me From my reflection on this razor blade I've heard ten thousand dying screams, and they're calling me

The day will break on this saddest day So don't let me wake I've heard this all before I've seen this over and over again Don't let me wake

Drown me in a pool of my blood It's getting harder just to breathe I'll suffocate you faster just so you can't see, so you can't see me sleep So you can't see me sleep Oh So you can see me sleep (Sleep) So you can see me sleep (Sleep)

The day will break on this saddest day So don't let me wake I've heard this all before I've seen this over and over again Don't let me wake

Nothing was supposed to hurt like this And missing you was always one more kiss And now there's nothing that I can do There's just one more nail in the coffin There's just one more nail, and it's all for you

I've seen the angel's face, and I've heard her sing to me From my reflection on this razor blade I've heard ten thousand dying screams, and they're calling me

The day will break on this saddest day So don't let me wake I've heard this all before I've seen this over and over again Don't let me wake