

Bleeding Through, Savior, Saint, Salvation

Forget every word you spoke
Regret this life to choke
Purity just a blinded coward
Seventeen the number you chose me
Seventeen curses now will be blamed on your sacred black heart
Now I'm awake
My will is stronger than before
You don't know me, and you don't see me
You will never fucking know me
Come on

Everything went black tonight
Now I'm sick of being blamed for your worthless identity
Of a victim the claim you make
A false claim for a bullshit tear
Not from me anymore not from me anymore

Any more
Not anymore
So cast a thousand plagues on you
So left behind to make immense

Now I am set free and I can see right through you
But you're too blind to see me
Now I am set free and I can see right through you
But you're too blind to see me

Red
Red is the colour that makes me sick and is paid for in blood
It's paid for with your blood
Go
It's paid for with your blood
And now we're taking it back
We keep on taking it back
And now we're taking it back
We keep on taking it back
Taking it back
So you taking it back
Taking it back
And now we're taking it back
Take it all back

This time to my eyes you no longer exist to me
This time to my eyes you no longer exist to me
Red painted walls
You'll have our day in the sun
One more time
So cast a thousand plagues on you
So left behind to make immense
Now I am set free and I can see right through you
But you're too blind to see me
Now I am set free and I can see right through you
But you're too blind to see me
You're too blind
