

Bless The Fall, His Last Walk

Not many know how much you did
When you walked on broken feet to save us
This is your last walk, but it's not the end
And with faith in hand, you're not the only one
So come on, come on
You're not the only one, let's get this point across,
What are you waiting for?
Let's get this point across while we still have the time
Let's get this point across and live eternal life, let's get it across
