

BLIND, Save Me Now

this time its on my own I have to burn these bridges down renew the worn out things and now Im breaking out I drive as far as I can go to see the other side save me now, help me now dont you try to be what Ive become as long as you climb up the ladder you dont know what-you dont know what I stare into the sun how much I left through all this pain is hard to take it now I try to call the stars and heurusement is all I get what for is all the pain
as long as you climb up the ladder you dont know what-you dont know what it takes I had to learn some things in life lifes a game and every moment that Ive tried to make a change
I cant let go, I cant let go, now let me go!
as long as you climb up the ladder
save me now, save me now, save me now for a better, for a better
