

Blindside, Where the sun never dies

I think I saw a place in the distance We've always known it was there When I have breathed for the