

Blink The Star, Bourgeois Kitten

Solid as a candy in the sun
I'm a boy that's new and overrun
More like an extraction from a whole
A heart's something in almost everyone
Walked so far one night at home
Met a friend and sent him off alone
No patterns anywhere so
I shrugged off what I learned and blew off
Drank it through

'cause I'm new
Not like I am
Got pushed to the ground by a bad girl
Had a smile on my face as I drove off
"you see, I've got a million options
I'll fk through them all", just watch them fall
I watch them fall
I need them all
