

Bliss 66, Not Quite Paradise

Take the path of least resistance
Into the great unknown
No directory assistance
Now you're on your own
But if you're looking for a new world
Just open up your eyes

Chorus:
Because it's not quite paradise
But it sure feels like home
Not quite paradise
We can learn to grow
Oh, it'll be alright
No it's not quite paradise

Tomorrow's an illusion
Yesterday's a dream
Today is a solution
But you gotta let her breathe
And if you're looking for the answer
It's right before your eyes

Although it's not quite paradise
It sure looks like home
Not quite paradise
We are not alone
Oh, it'll be alright
No it's not quite... paradise

And somewhere from the edge of time
When the flow is that and words don't rhyme
I'll call you up and say we made it ok
And somewhere in the back of your mind
When you see your demons come to life
And the world just fades away
You'll know it's ok

It's gonna be ok
Ok... ok... ok

But it's not quite paradise
But it sure feels like home
Not quite paradise
We can make this place our own
Not quite paradise
We can learn to grow
Not quite paradise
We don't have to be alone
Not quite paradise
No No, No No, No No
Not quite paradise
(Fade)
