

Bloc Party, Your Visits Are Getting Shorter

I can see it in your eyes now, you have come to resent me
Condescension in the silence
Your fingers are tired girl, how they falter against my thigh
Your kisses are pining for the lips of someone else

Your visits getting shorter
Your heart is getting further from me
Your touch is getting colder
Always somewhere you need to be

Boys in blue blazers, boys ...
Boys in your maths class who'll do anything you ask

You're pulling the trigger and the gun is in my mouth
A subtle annoyance laced with disgust
When you get older and those boys grow tired of you
You can come find me, I can never hate you

Your visits getting shorter...

Boys on your left side, boys on your right
Boys by your locker who'll do anything you ask

Let's spend the whole day in bed then
'Cause if we don't you'll want to, want to leave
I try to hold something I can
I try to hold something I can never keep

Your visits getting shorter...
