

Bloodflowerz, Anthem For A Stranger

Before I met you every light was dark
That you never saw me still feels so hard
After I have seen you, prazers filled my eye
Nothing but my sorrow stays when all hope leaves

Calling, calling for you
I'm just a face in the crowd you will never see
Falling, falling in your
Glances of love but your love I will never be
Calling, calling for you
I'm just a face in the crowd you will never see
Tried to be so beautiful
Tried to be so wonderful
Tried to speak to you but you could never hear me
Calling, calling for you...
For you I'm no one, a lone tear in the rain
For your attention, I call in vain
Calling, calling for you...
You are too beautiful
And you are too wonderful
