

Bloodflowerz, Fire In Paradise

you're like angels, so beautiful, it makes me cry all my dreams of you rain down from the weeping sky like roses you flourish in my heart and hurt with your thorn flowers die in the cold, turn to gold, to be reborn you're deeper than all oceans your sighing sounds so sweet, even when you sleep silently beats my heart with addictive smart fire in paradise mirrors in my eyes roses of red flower in my head roses smell so sweet till they start to weep you're passion, you take me high and make me cry you're protagonist in all love poems you're sin, chill on my skin my heartbeat is your voice, i have no choice when your arrow hits my heart the roses start to burn
