

Bloodflowerz, Till The End

don't know what is dream or real, what will be forever just a touch of what i feel can be wrote in letters hope that you will understand that you feel the same i will take you by the hand 'cause life is not tame can i know i'm not mad? can i know i'm not dead?
that all's not just false pride just hope keeps me alive hope is when we keep the faith, believe in what eyes can't see hope's the sun on rainy days, the smile on your face i'll wait one thousand years, cry a million tears, die in hundred lives, just to be by your side in all joy and in all pain i'll be there for you till the end when we laugh and when we rain deep emotions we cannot pretend one day we will have to go hearts will break but we know (was) just a short part of our way (we'll) meet again one day you burned a sign in my heart i will never set apart a message shining in the haze, on my way so much will stay unsaid, mute till we are dead so much stays undone, forgotten when we are gone i'll wait one thousand years, cry a million tears, die in hundred lives,
