

Bloodflowerz, Unperfectly Perfect a thrilling voice of pain told me i should better go the growing thunder announced that the next wave will overflow me despite of the storm my heart said no i had to stay i could not go the night came i waited for the rain with hope in my heart, fire in my veins my heart, my blood, my pain , my joy my mind, my soul, my love, my tears

a fight in my breast, a search and an endless quest my heart don't wanna think my pain don't wanna laugh my joy cannot despair my mind can't stop to weigh my way a thrilling voice told me that i should better stay i questioned my heart and felt that it is not the perfect day despite of the sun my heart said go my soul said i know, but my mind no who knows what is prudent, who knows what's right the only to trust is this voice inside
