bloodsimple, The Leaving Song

Sit here all in all
Waiting on the phone
Push my body to the floor
Still you never call
She's still with me
Kiss still kills me
Can't feel guilty
It's just a memory

All the things you put me through All the hopeless nights I tried to make it right for you Show me how it is to lose And who the hell are you to drag me down with you

Flowers that I bought are now dead and gone Love that was before is gone evermore All my hurting, all my yearning, all that burning Can't you see that it is me My beautiful

All the things you put me through All the hopeless nights I tried to make it right for you Show me how it is to lose And who the hell are you to drag me down with you

Every time I looked in your eyes Crucified again Every time you sold me your lies I was justified in the end Just like some face lost on a runaway train Pass me by and wave goodbye

All the things you put me through All the hopeless nights I tried to make it right for you Show me how it is to lose And who the hell are you to drag me down with you
