

Bloom 06, Reaching For The Stars

While the world is falling Falling
Falling.

Its so silly how a man can spend all of his money just to buy a better car to feel so cool and to get there he has to spend his life behind a desk often forced to bend to saying always yes.

We keep reaching for the stars
while the world is falling Read the message all around were falling down
We keep reaching for the stars
our world is shrinking Theres a message underground
were going down
were falling

How long will it take for people to stop screaming to stop fighting with each other for a ball and its crazy how they want to put their fists before their words and for sure its not for this that it was born.

We keep reaching for the stars
were falling down
our world is shrinking
were going down
were falling

Falling.
