

Blue Cheer, I'm The Light

(Norman Mayall & Kent Housman)

It's not the Devil that you conjure
When you turn your back on me
You'll just be looking in the shadows
I'm the light, I'm the light
I'm the only one you'll see.

Speak to you through illusions, babe
You must tune yourself to me
You mustn't waste your time with all you've seen
I'm the light, I'm the light
And this is just one of my dreams.

It's one foot in the astral world
Other one in the breeze
Can't you see my light
Can't you see my light
It's one hand for all mankind
While the other holds the flame
Can't you see my light
Can't you see my light
Can't you see my light.

I play the master game
I hold the key to time
Do you see my light, baby
You have the greatest scene
Ten thousand times.

It's one foot in the astral world
Other one in the breeze
Can't you see my light
Can't you see my light
It's one hand for all mankind
While the other holds the flame
Can't you see my light
Can't you see my light
Can't you see my light.

I'm the light
I'm the light
I'm the only one you'll see
Do you see my light
Do you see my light
Do you see my light
I'm the light
I'm the light
I'm the only one you'll see.
