

Blue October, Believe

See them wasting on the bone, and the tears they cry
Find the places on you own, for the scars she'll hide

Night falls, as the Winter turns in sleet
She calls out loud "Won't you stay away from me";

All alone, feeling strong
When you need her, she'll be gone
You wonder why it took so long
And why it's harder to go on

See the faces on their own, and the words they lie
So you faked it back at home, happened once or twice

Night falls, as the Winter turns in sleet
She calls out loud "What the hell is wrong with me?";

All alone, feeling strong
When you need her, she'll be gone
You wonder why it took so long
And why it's harder to go on

Night falls, as the Winter turns in sleet
She calls out loud "What the hell is wrong with me?";

All alone, feeling strong
When you need her, she'll be gone
You wonder why it took so long
And why it's harder to go on
