

Blue October, Jump Rope

Remember how you used to say you couldnt wait till tomorrow for a brand new day no fuss when ya had to ride the bus you could add a little blush just to paralyze your school crush now your older and the weight upon your shoulder makes the world a little colder no more hidin in the old days be strong dont give up hope it will get hard cause lifes like a jump rope up down when it gets hard remember lifes like a jump rope therell be a bump there will be a bruise therell be alarms and there will be a snooze therell be a path that u will get to choose therell be a win and there will be a lose you have to hold your head up high and watch all the negative go by dont u ever be ashamed to cry you go ahead
cuz lifes like a jump rope I want to tell u that everything will be okay That everything will eventually turn itself to gold Keep pushin through it all Dont follow, lead the way Dont lose yourself or your hope Remember lifes like a jump rope
