

Blue Rodeo, 5 am

Blue Rodeo
Miscellaneous
5 am

with every breath we grow further apart sometimes I wish we didn't know how to talk and as we sort out the who said you said who said I said I only wish I came a little better prepared

5am these things will pass tomorrow won't be our last funny how I'm allways here with you I never ment to change your world our change your point of view
I only want to hold you when I feel a little blue
I hope you know I'll always be there for you I know by now I should be sound aleep but my mind won't let me it feels like it's going to explode
I'll say that you're right
If you can just say that I'm right let's hit the hay and call this case closed

5am things get so strange tomorrow's a brand new day funny how I'm always here with you
I never ment to change your world
or change your point of view
I only want to hold you when I feel a little blue
I hope that you know I'll always be there for you

funny how I'm always here with you
I never ment to change your world
or change your point of view
I only want to hold you when I feel a little blue
I hope that you know I'll always be there for you.
