Blue Rodeo, Rebel

Lead Vocal by Jim

Out on the streets every night Going out of my head. Caught in a midnight parade That I wish I wasn't in, I'm running away with nowhere to hide Caught in a world just four lanes wide Everyone thinks of themselves But I'm thinking of you.

And it's all for a rebel And it's all for a rebel

Spent last night falling in love With a girl in room five. People 'round here are different We lead desperate lives, No, the same moon rising over your head Is catching me wasted, worn-out and dead Everyone's watching themselves, But I'm watching you.

And it's all for a rebel And it's all for a rebel, yeah

Out on the streets every night Going out of my head. I'm caught in a midnight parade That I wish I wasn't in No, the sun that's rising over your head Is catching me wasted, worn-out and dead Everyone thinks of themselves, But I'm thinking of you

And it's all for a rebel And it's all for a rebel rebel, rebel, yeah
