

Blue Rodeo, Sky

Looks like someone let you down told you lies and you believed took you out into their garden and walked you through the weeds

Sky come falling down again
sky come falling down again

Called you up from across the ocean in my dreams I hear your voice you said I can't spend my whole life waiting it's time you made your choice

Sky come falling down again
sky come falling down again

Oh when you win some later on you lose it's hard to tell the difference between the two oh don't lose your feet don't let it mess up your sleep you never choose

There is a place down by the river when I feel I'm caving in I can lie there under the moonlight watch the stars feel the wind

Sky come falling down again
sky come falling down again

Sky come falling down again
sky come falling down again
