Little things, simple things
And a few surprises in the middle of your path
Times pass and change,
Yesterday you were king.

Where did the expectations go
And how is it, you're left without an answer ?
You haven't done all you wanted
And what remains, of all the love.

Every thing depends on you, my friend,
Be strong, don't break,
Don't let sadness hurt you,
Be strong and you'll overcome.

It is hard to see - but sometimes the circle is closed in the middle of the story.
And your body has no more strength to pull,
they can give up, but you can't (you could have given up, but you mustn't)

Every thing is up to you.....

The conclusion my friend:
gather all your strength,
It is easier to talk when you get over your fear.
in spite of all, you understand that this is the way,
be strong my friend - be strong,
and you'll overcome.

Every thing is up to you.....
