

Bob Catley, Lost To The Night

Chasing our dreams in the city
These streets ain't paved with gold
But I won't sell my soul

Down on my luck, ain't it a pity?
People look, they just stare
Nobody sees, nobody's there

Now we're lost to the night
'Cause we're living in our dreams
We're blinded by the lights
And nothing's what it seems
We're lost to the night
But the lights don't seem the same
The dream won't fade away
There's no one left to blame

It's a crazy world that we live in
Guess some things just don't change
The story stays the same

Down on my knees, ain't it a pity?
They all look, they just stare
Nobody hears, nobody cares

Now we're lost to the night
'Cause we're living in our dreams
We're blinded by the lights
And nothing's what it seems
We're lost to the night
But the lights don't seem the same
The dream won't fade away
