Bob Guiney, Spare Minute

Bogus reasons for leaving me hangin' by a thread Ya turn me down it turns me on, It really messed with my head Recurring dreams bout the real popular people in school I'm biting dust in the presence of my home coming queen

I guess you win this time It's ridiculous For you to be sitting there laughing as I crash and I burn

Can you spare a minute for Can you spare a minute for when I die?

I'm burned out on pickup lines
That I learned in Philosophy classes
Then the starting fullback
Fell on my black rimmed glasses
Seeing that I
Don't have a comeback to use
Think I'd better, better make a fool of you now

She's in charge of me She's swallowing the life inside It just takes 60 seconds to make me come around
