

Bobby Bare, Candy Coated Kisses

You speak and the words flow like honey your kiss holds a promise so sweet
But all of these things that you tell me you tell to each new love you meet
Candy coated kisses sugar coated lies
Oh how I want to believe them but only a fool would try

You smile and my whole world turns sunny you know just the right things to say
Your words paint such beautiful pictures pictures that soon fade away
How many hearts have you broken how many lips have you kissed
I don't wanna know so don't tell me just add my name to your list
Candy coated kisses...
Only a fool would try only a fool would try (candy coated kisses)
