

Bobby Bare, Heaven Help My Soul

When the sun shines babe it'll wake you in the morning
When the moon fades away then you gonna find me gone
I'll kiss her lips so fine put that ring back on her hand
Takes a lowdown son of a gun to steal her lips from another man

So heaven help my soul for the bad things I've done
And the girl I thought so true cheatin' on a man while he's gone

Every time I see a babe looking for a love to share
I fight the pain inside but somehow I just don't care at all
Heaven help my soul for the bad things I've done...
I'll kiss her lips so fine put that ring back on her hand...
Heaven help my soul for the bad things I've done...
