

Bobby Bare, If You Think I'm Crazy Now

I been wired since I can't remember when
You seen me out most every night with a dissipated grin
All my life I been been ribald, loose and loud now I think I'm finally wearin' down
I may rock and I may roll I may sleep out in the cold
I can still stay up six days in a row
But I know the things I do don't compare with the things I did
If you think I'm crazy now should've seen me when I was a kid

I been wild I been wasted stoned and stooped
Stayed out nights and started fights and wore out two bar stools
All these years it's been bedrooms bars and beers
But now the end is finally drawin' near
I may rock and and may roll...
