

Bobby Valentino, Soon As I Get Home

[Bobby:]

Hey baby, come here for a second
I don't like the way he treats you
He don't deserve you, forreal
He really don't
Check this out

[Verse:]

What kind of man would leave you standing in the cold
Must have been a silly one to sacrifice a pot of gold
Your the kind of woman who needs a man that's always there
It's not that you require a lot, just need some tender love and care

[Chorus:]

I give good love
I'll buy your clothes
I'll cook your dinner too
Yeah, soon as I get home from work

I'll pay your rent
Your faithful lover
Oh baby, soon as I get home, soon as I get home from work
Girl I'll treat you right and I'll never lie
For all that it's worth
I'll give good love

(Good love, good love, good love, good love)

[Verse:]

It doesn't make sense that you should have a broken heart
Well if I were the only one, I would never let you fall apart
Your the kind of woman that needs a man with lots of cash
With a stack of major credit cards and with me, you don't have to ask (ask)

[Chorus:]

I give good love
I'll buy your clothes
I'll cook your dinner too
Oh baby, soon as I get home from work

I'll pay your rent
Your faithful lover
Oh baby, soon as I get home, soon as I get home from work

Girl I'll treat you right and I'll never lie or flirt
Soon as I get home, soon as I get home from work
Girl I'll treat you right and I'll never lie
For all that it's worth
I'll give good love
(Good love, good love, good love, good love)

[Chorus: until fade]
