

Bobo in White Wooden Houses, I Wanna Keep Y

you and me feeling good and obviously together we were so strong I felt so nice when I walked down to the city on the way to you away from here now it's spring again I come home with a bunch of flowers only to stimulate my mind sometimes I need such a thing for confidence I'm looking for improvements of sense
You know it's a wornout old phrase that you don't love me anymore I appear four times a day with a new make up just to hide my tears
I want to be so strong but what do you want?
I want to be so strong but hey what do you want?
I look for compensation my vision falls to pieces
I look for satisfaction when I can't sleep at night but I don't need a substitute I wanna keep you on my side maybe lovin' you isn't the right thing to do It might be better I go my own way please tell me should I go or should I stay?
