

Bobo in White Wooden Houses, Skate Away

when it drives you insane and love is tearing you apart when your mind is shot through by all those little arrows when all these memories are coming back to you split in good and bad right and wrong
when all these memories are coming back to you...

it drives you insane
it is tearing you apart certain times are for change and to go right from the start and when these memories are coming back to you you'll smile
come on and shake it, shake it off your bones and fly away
come on and shake it off your bones and skate away

when it drives you insane
and love is tearing you apart
certain times are for change
and to go right from the start

come on and shake it off your bones could you turn and take it as another tiny step to grow

and when these memories are coming back to you
you'll smile
oh could you turn and take it as another chance to try