

Bodyjar, Empty Spaces

I don't want to be the one that's missing out on all the fun
You won't find me running round in circles again
But I will find a way to be my best in every way
And I told you And I told you that

In empty spaces things fall inbetween
It's just about the strangest thing that I have ever seen

See yourself today
Take a look don't run away
You may find your empty space
And it may be filled tomorrow I thought it over and I have found it's just begun
And I told you And I told you that

In empty spaces things fall inbetween
It's just about the strangest thing that I have ever seen

You had it all
Your friends say you got it all
You've got it all
Now you've thrown it all away
