

Bodyjar, Fall Into Place

[Originally by China Drum]

When I talk, you will talk, when you talk it will fall back into place, yeah yeah
When I talk, you will talk, when you talk it will fall back into place, yeah yeah

This is something that we've got to suss ourselves
If we don't we're gonna stay here on the shelf
That's where I should be, looking up to you
Making promises like politicians do

This is something that we've got to plan out right
If we don't we're gonna stay here in the shite
That's where I should be, looking up to you
Making promises like politicians do

When I talk, it will fall back into place, yeah yeah
When I talk, it will fall back into place, yeah yeah

You are like having something in my eyes
Burning through the lens that money just can't buy
Motion to the sink to try and wash it out
But you're already there just falling all about

That's where I should be, looking up to you
Making promises like politicians do
That's where I should be, looking up to you
Making promises like politicians do

When I talk, it will fall back into place, yeah yeah
When I talk, it will fall back into place, yeah yeah
