

Bodyjar, Make A Difference

You know I see someone's motivation in your eyes.
And I know it makes you think like you've been hypnotised.
And you try and make me understand the things you do.
But I can't.. So I just walk away and stay confused.

It won't make a difference
It won't be the same
You can't
Believe in all you see

There won't be a next time
One more mistake
You can't believe in all you see.

You walk around consuming all the things you want
And we dry up every well til every drop is gone
The headlines make me think about it everyday
Packaged up
As entertainment anyway

It won't make a difference
It won't be the same
You can't
Believe in all you see

There won't be a next time
One more mistake
You can't believe in all you see.
