

Bodyjar, You've Taken Everything

Wastin' time
Just hopin' everything will go my way
Plans for makin' everything OK
I define
Systems black and white as what we have
And everything I've done is coloured grey

You've taken everything
And left me here with nothing
And I told you everything
And you left me here with nothin'
With nothin'

Wait in line
Just letting my self-anger redesign
Damned to be misunderstood again
As I decide to represent myself
But on your terms Like giving you the gun to shoot me down
You've taken everything...
You've taken everything
I owe you everything
One day of judgement
You've taken everything
