

Bomb The Music Industry!, Save the War

This song is generally about how I felt when our government stepped in and said that 1-800-SUICID

Let's save our arms, knives, tanks and guns.
Let's put them in the shed until we fight a war not based on assumption.
Let's save our bombs and set our sights on faith-based initiatives that only work for some.

We need to save the war for something worth our lives.
Let's spend some time stopping blatant gay hate crimes.
We need to keep the war reserved for something big
like religious zealots that wanna murder gay kids.

How do you find that you'll prevent suicide
by telling a teenage lesbian to go find Jesus?
One love. One people. That's what we need.
But we're focusing on all the wrong things
Besides, fighting for peace is like fucking for virginity.

We need to save the war for something worth our lives.
Let's spend some time stopping blatant gay hate crimes.
We need to keep the war reserved for something big
like religious zealots that wanna murder gay kids.

We cannot stand for this.
I can't believe we're gonna let 'em kill the kids.

We need to save the war for something worth our lives.
Like Comissions Acts recinding all our rights.
We need to keep the war reserved for something big.
Not just trying to put the fear into the kids.

Holy fuck! Oh good lord! Oh my god! Oh MY god! Oh shit! Oh shit! Oh God! Oh God! Oh No!!!
