

Bombshell Rocks, Madhouse

Step into the worldwide madhouse
Meet kings and fanatic believers
Come and play the game of chance among
Noble men and plain deceivers

It hits me with the speed of a bullet
That's just left the muzzle of a gun
And it's just like a rollercoaster
Everything carries on

Outside the nightly traffic
And the sound of an ambulance
All I get is the feeling
I've caught the relevance

It's a madhouse
The battle begins
On my doorstep
Trying to get in

The neighbourhood sleeps pretty unknowing
While the madness surely wakes me up
The fear I feel, is it unfounded?
I'm awake watching madness nonstop
