

Bombshell Rocks, Me & You

We're headed for an unknown destination new administration rules if I could change the world I would but I'm headed for unknown territory fear points me in the wrong direction and media carries the infection

I know now that you won't stand by me and much less I'll stand by you I'll pay my dues and then we'll be done with it between me and you

Governments, I don't recommend 'em voter friendly propaganda a cover-up done on a hidden agenda I don't wanna be a part of this no more political warfare, business for sure I quit, and that's it. so stay out of my world

Between me and you
