

Bon Jovi, Billy

Since you're been gone now honey life ain't nothing but sad luck days
I begged on my knees now, sugar
You acted like you never knew my name
My friends saw you at the station
I guess you must have missed your train
Tell me is it 'cause you love me, Billy
Or is it just because you love the pain?

Chorus:

Billy, Billy

Ain't love hard to explain?

For a debutante you're a real hard woman

But I love you just the same

How come you're sad when I get happy?

Why do you laugh when I want to cry?

Tell me why when I say I need you

You turn around and you say goodbye

Why do you think that a heart's so fragile?

Can you tell me why love's so blind?

Just like a magnet you pull me under

I can't resist you, we're two of a kind

Chorus:

Billy, Billy

Ain't love hard to explain?

For a debutante you're a real hard wmoan

But I love you just the same

Billy , Billy

We're better lovers than friends

Life is like a movie but this ain't pretend

There really doesn't have to be a happy end

Chorus:

Billy, Billy

Ain't love hard to explain?

For a debutante you're a real hard woman

But I love you just the same

I never said you had to walk on water

Or that I could ever stop the rain

Some times we break up just to make up, baby

And we don't care who's to blame

Billy, Billy

Ain't love hard to explain?

For a debutante you're a real hard woman

But I love you just the same

Billy, Billy

Can we be lovers and friends

Life if like a movie but this ain't pretend
