

Bonfire, Heat In The Glow

Another night
you're out alone you try to find someone to build a little home You've lost your trust in what you feel that's why you lock your heart with some big seal

Still you're hungry - for affection for something deep - you can rely on somebody's out there - but you are scared to try

CHORUS

When your body says yes but your heart says no you're missing desire so that your love can grow the fire is hot - but there's no heat in the glow when your heart says no

Sometimes your wish is your command and then you're doing things your heart don't understand you hesitate
'cause you ain't sure but the way he kissed was deep and pure

Ain't no way - of medication when your heart has got no clue ain't nothing - you can say or do

Don't loose your faith in love just listen to the voice inside (of your heart) sometimes the roads are rough but you will make it home
