

Bonfire Pickets, Foolish Charade

I think we should stop this charade
This is just a stupid parade
I don't love you and you don't want me
We must break up immediately

I don't see the things that you need
I don't have the same extent of greed
I don't have the things you want in a man
I don't feel emotions you understand

When it was the early days, we used to have such fun
Now it is just tedious, I know you're not the one

Why is it that you are still with me?
Have I not stated it clearly?
We have reached the end of the line
You and me, we've run out of time.

I don't see the reasons that you stay
We don't even get on anyway
Everything you do is evil and cruel
You just want to make me look like a fool

And I know that at the start we used to have such fun
But since then you've been a bitch and now your course has run

Do what you wanna do
I just want shot of you
And if you run away
It'll be a happy day
