

Bonnie Pink, Evil And Flowers

You can find evil everywhere aiming at your flowers Run and run and hide as you may, they will catch you

They're always ready in your mind No man alive can see them They show themselves as flowers fall then you must go

go somewhere to find yourself if you cannot help yourself though evil and flowers both come and go

You shall find no choice anyway passing vacant hours kinda long for you to tide over who knows where to belong We're always petrified and tied wish I could climb a ladder dark night, dark night will come over soon

though evil and flowers both come and... evil and flowers both come and... evil and flowers both come and go
