Bonnie 'Prince' Billy, Lay And Love

From what I've seen, you're magnificent You fight evil with all you do Your every act is spectacular It makes me lay here and love you

From what I hear, you are generous You make sunshine and glory too When you walk in things go luminous It makes me lay here and love you

From what I know, you're terrified You have mistrust running through you Your smile is hiding something hurtful It makes me lay here and love you

It makes me lay here and love you I'm filled with violet and red and blue I have a feeling from what I do That you might lay there and love me too
