

Boom Shaka, Sunshine

I used to think that i would never fall in love it was a foolish cry but now i cant do without you whatever this is this love is killing pain here she comes she rides again

(chorus)

sunshine is knocking at my door
and in my galaxy theres none like thee ten thousand miles i had to ride across land and sea what ever this is this love is killing pain when she bubbling i beg her dont stop

(chorus)

love is a thing that would blow your mind make a blind man see poor man rich inside true love you know i cant deny it in fields of roses we make love tonight
