

Bouncing Souls, New Day

People tell me they wake up everyday wondering if they'll be here tomorrow.
I say live for today.
Cuz everything you have is just borrowed.
No progress made just sittin' around
Tv's selling bullshit by the pound
Things stay the same are you afraid to ask why?
Fight To Live! or are you waiting to die?

Changes coming our way!
Just like a new day.

These borrowed days they come and go
We live on, reaping what we sow
Terror from the darkness of our minds
the self-destruction of mankind
and we'd all like to see some change
But the shit, it falls like rain
We sit and watch the world turn grey
What's the point here anyway?
Changes coming our way
Just like a new day
