

Bowling For Soup, Corndog

i was all alone on a saturday night and the funny thing is, we didn't even have a fight i stayed up all night cryin' and i slept all day, and missed the game inside i think i'm dyin' i just can't figure out how she slipped away i was out all night monday in dallas and the strangest thing is, i can't remember a thing i was drunk and drinkin' and i woke up in my best friend's car my friends say i've gone crazy i still need to find out how she slipped away i've no idea what i did

she just told me,
"have someone check your head" let me ask you, do you think that i was wrong? trying too hard? maybe i came on too strong

tryin' to find
tryin' to find
tryin' to find a reason not to leave your side
tryin' to find
tryin' to find an answer, before i lose my mind i was at a club real late last tuesday and the weirdest thing is, i can't remember her name i stayed up all night tryin' to make her face look just like yours and she ended up cryin' i still need to find out why you slipped away

she just told me,
let me ask you, do you think that i was wrong, yeah trying too hard? maybe i came on too strong

tryin' to find
tryin' to find a reason not to leave your side
tryin' to find
i'm trying to find
i'm trying to find a reason not to leave your side i'm trying to find
i'm trying to find an answer before i lose my mind
