

Bowling For Soup, Guard My Heart

Ask me a question and i'll fill you full of lies
I know now the truth is bigger than my disguise
The message that i'd sent was shot down long ago
All i wanted was a simple yes but baby you said no

But you can't see my point of view
'Cause you're too caught up in protecting you
I'll put on a smile and wait just like i ofen do
Then i'll make myself a promise too

I need correspondence so please give to me an answer do
Could you repeat that one more time so i believe in you
I've got a hidden talent of seeing things that other people can't
I know your heart is shot full of holes from mistakes made in the past

But you can't see my point of view
'Cause you're too caught up in protecting you
I'll put on a smile and wait just like i ofen do
You say we're friends so i'll just guard this heart
If i told you might tear me apart, tear me apart

I know you don't believe it but i could never do that to you how i wish that you could see it all from the eyes i look through

But you can't see my point of view
'Cause you're too caught up in protecting you
I'll put on a smile and wait just like i ofen do
You say we're friends so i'll just guard this heart
If i told you might tear me apart, tear me apart

But you can't see my point of view
'Cause you're too caught up in protecting you
I'll put on a smile and wait just like i ofen do
Then i'll make myself a promise too